PLUNGES INTO CABINET GROUP

Monoplane Kills the French Minister of War.

PREMIER MONIS IS INJURED

Driver Loses Control of Machine Which Was Starting in Paris to Madrid Race and Dashes Suddenly Into the Line of Officials Who Were Looking On—Minister of War Bertaux Horribly Mangled and Others Injured and Buried in Wreckage.

Paris, May 22.—France paid a terrible toll for her magnificent endeavor to attain supremacy of the air when a monoplane, the driver of which had lost control, plunged into a group of members of the cabinet who had gathered to witness the start of the race from Paris to Madrid, killing the minister of war and injuring the prime minister, his son and a well-known sportsman.

Henri Maurice Bertaux, minister of war, was almost instantly killed.

The injured are: Antoine Emmanuel Ernest Monis, premier and minister of the interior; Antoine Monis, son of the premier; Henri Deutsch de la Moutte, the aged patron of aeronautics, automobilizing and other sports.

A large number of other persons of note had narrow escapes from injury. The accident occurred on the aviation field at Issy Les Molleux, where 200,000 persons had gathered to see the start of the race.

M. Train was piloting the monoplane that wrought such havoc. With him in the car was M. Bounier, a passenger. Neither of these men was injured. The machine was wrecked.

Bertaux Horribly Mangled.

Minister of War Bertaux was horribly mangled. The swiftly revolving propeller cut off cleanly his left arm, which was found ten feet away from the spot where he was struck; the back of his head was crushed in, his throat gashed and the whole of his left side cut and lacerated.

Premier Monis was buried beneath the wreckage of the monoplane. He was taken out as quickly as possible and examined by military surgeons, who found that he had sustained compound fractures of two bones in the right leg, that his nose was broken, his face badly contused, and that there were bruises on the breast and abdomen.

M. Deutsch and M. Monis were not seriously hurt.

Aviator Train, whose monoplane caused the accident, had taken his position at the starting line, levers in hand and with M. Bounier beside him.

The breeze had been steadily freshening and the meteorological observer in the Eiffel tower telephoned that his gauge showed a velocity of close to thirty miles an hour.

Train, however, left the ground. Ascending swiftly he circled the great field, curving around to the starting line and then flying down the course at a forty miles an hour gait, the machine rocking in the gusty winds.

Spectators Become Unruly.

At this moment it was noticed by the commandant of the troops that the crowds were breaking the line formation on one side of the field and he dispatched a troop of cuirassiers to get them back in order. The cuirassiers galloped across the field, breaking to double lines as they went.

Train's monoplane here swooped toward the earth under the impulse of an air flurry and it appeared as though the aviator was about to dash into the cavalry. The pilot's attention seemed momentarily to have been diverted from his course and he made a quick turn to the left, toward where the party of officials were standing. Then he lost control of the craft altogether and it dashed violently into the ministerial group.

The impact knocked M. Bertaux ten feet away, where he lay in a pool of blood, mangled, while under the wreckage of the monoplane lay Premier Monis, his son and M. Deutsch. Train and M. Bounier emerged from the wreckage uninjured.

A scene of frightful confusion followed the fall of the monoplane. From all parts of the aviation field arose cries of alarm and dismay and tens of thousands of persons broke through the lines and moved toward the scene of the accident. The cavalry, however, by repeated charges managed to clear the field and the injured men were given first aid to the injured treatment by field surgeons. From the first it was seen that M. Bertaux was fatally hurt and that M. Monis was seriously injured.

Montana Rancher Kills Self.

Billings, Mont., May 22.—Reuben B. Dykes, a rancher, aged thirty-two, committed suicide at his home near Newton, on the ceded portion of the Crow reservation, by jumping into a cistern.

NEW POSTAL BANKS CREATED

Virginia, Minn., Williston, N. D., and Lead, S. D., Among Them.

Washington, May 22.—Postmaster General Hitchcock, impressed by the reports of the successful operation of the postal savings system, has decided to designate hereafter, for a considerable time, 100 additional postal depositories each week, instead of fifty as announced a month ago.

Announcement was made of the designation of fifty additional depositories, twenty-three of them to be located in states west of the Missouri river, where the heaviest deposits heretofore have been made and where the department feels banking facilities are comparatively limited.

Among the postoffices selected as depositories will open for postal savings business June 19 are: Virginia, Minn.; Wallace, Id.; Colfax, Ia.; Calumet, Mich.; Red Lodge, Mont.; Holdrege, Neb.; The Dalles and Eugene, Ore.; Lead, S. D.; Aberdeen and Ellensburg, Wash.; Cudahy and Chippewa Falls, Wis., and Rawlins, Wyo.

FIVE GIRLS PERISH IN BURNING HOME

Lamp Filled With Gasoline by Mistake Explodes.

Utica, Kan., May 22.—Five daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harve Roach of this place, ranging in ages from seven to sixteen years, were burned to death in a fire which started in the Roach restaurant.

The parents were severely burned. The mother of the young girls filled a lamp with gasoline by mistake. Preparatory to ascending a stairway leading to the second floor room, where her daughters were asleep, she applied a match to the lamp.

An explosion followed, the fire being communicated to a two-gallon can of gasoline, sending burst of flames up the narrow stairway. The woman's dress caught fire, but the flames were extinguished by her husband, who had been asleep in an adjoining room.

He rushed up the burning stairs and caught his youngest daughter, five years old, in his arms. Calling to the other girls to follow him and leap into his arms he ran to a rear window and jumped to the ground, the little girl safe in his arms.

For some reason they failed to follow him and a half hour later the bodies of the five were taken from their charred beds.

ON ALASKA COAL CLAIMS

Field Division of Land Office Prepares Report.

Seattle, May 22.—Final report has been made by the field division of the general land office on 700 of the 1,100 Alaska coal claims.

The report has not been made public, but so far as known none of the claims has been found valid. In the Tanana field all these locations have been canceled because no application for patent was made. In the Cape Lisburne field, where a bluff of coal overhangs the shore of the Arctic ocean, all but two of the locations have been canceled.

The remaining 400 entries now are under investigation. This condition of affairs, land offices say, is sufficient reply to the charge that the government is delaying the opening of the Alaska coal claims.

Launch Goes Over Dam.

Black River Falls, Wis., May 22.—A gasoline launch containing Adolph Homstad, E. J. Greenlee, Peter Stal, Harry Perry, Jacob Metzger and Frank Oderblow was carried over the dam on the Black river here and Oderblow was drowned. The others were washed ashore.

HOUSE MEMBERS FEEL RESTLESS

Worrying Over Puzzling Situation in Senate.

JUGGLING WITH AGREEMENT

Democrats in Lower Branch of Congress Accuse Republicans in the Senate of Not Acting in the Proper Spirit Regarding Canadian Reciprocity—Wool Will Not Be Placed on the Free List.

Washington, May 22.—Democrats in the house of representatives, having disposed of practically all of their legislative program except the wool schedule, which is almost ready for action, are worried over the puzzling situation in the senate, the chief feature of which is the Canadian reciprocity bill.

The house Democrats argue that they took the reciprocity agreement just as it came from the international conference and the president and passed it as a matter of national policy without attempting to encumber it or embarrass the administration with tariff riders.

The farmers' free list bill which followed, they argue, was an affair of their own and need not stand in the way of the reciprocity measure for whose consideration the extraordinary session of congress was called.

Now they say the Republicans are juggling with the Canadian agreement. Should the bill embodying it be amended and the Democratic house called upon to consider it in an amended form house leaders fear they might be placed in an embarrassing position.

Two Elements at Work.

One Democratic leader declared there were two forces at work in the senate to amend the bill, one force sincerely trying to strengthen the agreement and the other seeking to muzzle affairs.

The Democrats are determined to stay in session until the senate has taken some action on the bill. A virtual ultimatum from the house to the senate leaders that the senate must also vote one way or another on the farmers' free list bill and the wool bill when they are passed in the house is regarded by some as a sort of whip to hasten the senate along.

If the reciprocity bill is passed by the senate after the house has disposed of the wool schedule some Democrats think the house would not insist upon anything more than a clear indication from the senate that it would not act on the other tariff bills and that it would agree to a summer recess.

House leaders are gratified that they are out of the woods on the wool revision of the question. The ways and means committee's decision is that the revised wool schedule will not place raw wool on the free list, but will cut the existing rate from 11 cents a pound to 5 or 6 cents a pound or its equivalent in an ad valorem duty.

Advocates of free wool in the committee were forced to yield by Speaker Clark, Majority Leader Underwood, chairman of the committee, and other conservative leaders, after a complete canvass of the states.

TAFT TALKS TO NEGROES

Congratulates Race on Raising Fund for Colored Y. M. C. A.

Washington, May 22.—Speaking to more than 1,000 negroes here President Taft congratulated the race in Washington upon the consummation of the movement for the erection of a $100,000 home for a Colored Young Men's Christian association.

The president paid a high tribute to the work of the Y. M. C. A. and praised the generosity and broad philanthropy of Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, who, though barred from any part in the management of the association by the rule limiting the directorate to certain religious denominations, recently agreed to give $25,000 to the Washington negro branch's building fund.

TO BOOST REAPPORTIONMENT

Wisconsin Governor and Progressives to Get Busy at Once.

Madison, Wis., May 22.—It has developed that the governor and a few close friends in the progressive ranks will take personal charge of the coming reapportionment of the state and the plans already informally considered include the lopping off of about one county from the Eleventh district, in which Superior is located, with Congressman Lenroot as the representative.

The apportionment plans call for districts with about 200,000 population to the district and the Lenroot district new numbers nearly 250,000 persons.

DUST AT BALL GAME FATAL.

Boston, May 22.—Frederick Porter Vinton, a widely known artist, died at his home here. A week ago he attended a ball game and the dust badly affected his throat, bringing on bronchial troubles, which weakened him to such an extent that death resulted.

DEMOCRATS DROP FREE WOOL FIGHT.

Washington, May 22.—Democrats who battled for free raw wool gave up and have agreed with Chairman Underwood and Speaker Clark for reduction of a reduced duty.

LAUNCH GOES OVER DAM.

Black River Falls, Wis., May 22.—A gasoline launch containing Adolph Homstad, E. J. Greenlee, Peter Stal, Harry Perry, Jacob Metzger and Frank Oderblow was carried over the dam on the Black river here and Oderblow was drowned. The others were washed ashore.

WHAT IS THE REMEDY?

While these facts are known and have been known, while they are discussed and lamented, no one seems to have been able to suggest a remedy.

The truck farmer cannot go to town and sell his produce. He has to sell it and ship it where there is a demand, and he must accept the price which is offered. Not only is this true in regard to farm produce, but it is the fact in regard to every other article sold on a small scale.

It was during the tariff debate that Senator Smoot held up a razor which abroad cost 50 cents, upon which the duty was 15 or 20 cents and which was sold in the retail stores at $3. Congressman Gaines showed during the same debate that a common handkerchief for which 25 cents was paid cost but a few cents even with the duty.

Such examples were numerous, and we will have many of them when the senate begins to debate the different tariff bills. But what are the consumers going to do about it?

SECOND IN COMMAND.

See what long and continuous service will do. Senator Warren is chairman of the powerful committee on appropriations, and he is second on the following committees: Agriculture and Forestry, military affairs, public buildings and grounds, rules, irrigation and reclamation of arid lands and expenditures in the department of state. All but the latter are good committees.

Agriculture and military affairs each handles appropriation bills. Warren as "second in command" will be on every conference committee of any importance on bills handled by the different committees.

DOING BUSINESS IN THEIR OWN WAY.

Although the Democrats who are now managing affairs of the house have never had much experience in "running things," they are doing business in their own way. Leader Mann and former Speaker Cannon protest that the Democrats exclude "calendar Wednesday" and "discharge Monday," two new days which the insurgents and Democrats forced into the rules during the last congress, but the majority without any display of shame go ahead and dispense with those days in a calm, routine manner, which indicates that they are willing to take all the responsibility of the situation.

WHY SON GOES TO THE CITY.

That old problem of why the son of the farmer leaves the farm and goes to the city was discussed in the tariff hearings. Senator Clark of Wyoming asked a question to show that the farmer boy went to the city as much for the "city atmosphere," amusements and the like as for pecuniary gain. J. W. Hutchins of Michigan, who was before the committee, asserted that it was both pecuniary gain and because of the pleasures the city afforded that the young men went to the cities from the farms.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota wanted to bring out that if the farm life could be made just as profitable it would be just as agreeable and people could have time for city amusements.

Then it was that Senator Williams of Mississippi came in with a solid chunk of fact: "No matter how profitable we make the work on the farm—I am a countryman and live twelve and one-half miles from the telegraph and express office—we cannot give our boys moving picture shows and castles."

AND THE PROBLEM OF HOW TO KEEP THE SON ON THE FARM WAS NOT SETTLED.

It was not pursued very far, because the less important question of a few cents difference on this or that article as produced in the United States and Canada soon absorbed the committee, and the greater question was allowed to drop.

PLAY DUEL MAY PROVE FATAL.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 22.—A play duel probably will cost Lloyd Smith of Thompson, aged ten, his life. The lad was hit by a bullet from a .22 caliber rifle near the bridge of his nose, the rifle being held in the hands of his companion, August Buth, aged fifteen.

His Wonderful Record.
"He never inherited an office and never ran for one," says a Georgia memorialist. "Once or twice they tried to get him to stand for the legislature and even congress had been mentioned to him, but he never weakened. He had been in Washington for weeks at a time, but never took a snapshot of the White House or sent his card to a congressman. And to the people he was plain 'Mr.' to the last. No man ever colonelized or generalized him. In a community of captains and colonels he was a simple wonder."—Atlanta Constitution.

Of all that wonderful and inspiring glory and beauty that Christ gave the church you are the inheritors and your guardians. The sun is shining brightly in your young lives today. GIRL PAINTS INDIAN WOMAN.

Mother of Senator Owen Will Be the Central Figure.

Washington is awaiting with much interest the coming exhibition of a painting of the grandmother of Senator Robert L. Owen of Muskogee, Okla. The painting, which is being done by Miss Katherine Dabney, is descriptive of the early history of Virginia and the Cherokee Indians, the senator's mother being a relative of no less a person than President Thomas Jefferson of Virginia and also a descendant of the Cherokees.

Narcissa Chisholm, the senator's mother, was the granddaughter of a queen of the Cherokee tribe, a noted beauty of her race, called Queen Quatsis. Miss Dabney has portrayed the meeting of Queen Quatsis and her English lover as he comes through the forest riding his thoroughbred charger and discovers the Indian queen and her maidens gathering Cherokee roses.

The queen, of the typical Indian type of romance, stands near a great rock, with the characteristic pose of the women of her race, listening to the hoof beats of the horse with its rider approaching her.

The horseman, attracted by her unusual beauty, as the stories go, fell in love with her at first sight. Her wood and won her and, marrying her, took her back to England with him, and she was presented at the English court much the same as the farfamed Pocahontas. Her picture is to be seen today hanging in one of the well-known galleries of England.

Overpowered.

"Are you sure you are strong enough to carry this trunk up three flights of stairs?" asked the maiden lady of the roustabout she had summoned.

"Sure, mum," he responded heartily. "How much do I git out of it?"

"Why, if you don't break anything or spoil the walls I'll give you 10 cents."

"Sorry, mum, but I couldn't git away wid dat heavy trunk."

"Why, a minute ago you were sure you were strong enough."

"I was, but yer generosity has made me weak."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

IN TEXAS CAMPS

Attendance at San Antonio Reaches 100,000 a Month.

THREE TENTS AT SAN DIEGO.

Competent Secretaries In Charge of the Work, With a Negro Secretary For the Colored Troops—Entertainment Other Than Religious.

Attendance at the Young Men's Christian association tents pitched at the camp at San Antonio reaches 100,000 a month. There are six secretaries besides some volunteers, all of them from the north and trained in the work. At the head of the association's army and navy branch in the field is George Avery Reeder, a veteran and a leader in this peculiar line. For the men of the Ninth cavalry there is a colored secretary, and a tent is provided for colored enlisted men.

Medical men of San Antonio have given addresses in the tents, some of them illustrated. Lectures on art subjects have also been given. Bible classes have been formed, and they have been well attended. The regular religious addresses on Sundays have been given by the secretaries and also by the local pastors of San Antonio. Week nights letter writing is indulged in by the men, no fewer than 1,500 letters going out from the tents on single days.

Additional Secretary Sent.

It appearing certain that troops must remain for some time at El Paso, a new secretary has just been sent there, Charles A. Dean, a veteran at work among soldiers. He is provided with a tent and will have the co-operation of the local association at El Paso. There are at San Diego three tents, and they are attended by quite as large numbers as those at San Antonio and El Paso. They are manned by secretaries sent from California, while the tents in Texas are manned by secretaries from New York and the east.

Just now there are no men on the battlements, but it is due to a transfer and the supplying of men in exceptional numbers for work in tents on land. It is planned to send one man with the squadron that goes to England to represent this country at the king's coronation.

The Army and Navy Work.

This army and navy work by Young Men's Christian associations was started at the suggestion and by the personal work of William B. Millar, now with the laymen's missionary movement at the breaking out of the Spanish war. Mr. Millar early had the help of the late Dwight L. Moody. Within ten years, growing in part out of the experiences of the Spanish war, marked progress has been made in providing buildings at Fort Monroe, Newport, New York and other navy yards in landing secretaries upon bat-ships with cruises and in other lines, partly social, partly religious. Heartfelt approval of the work has been given by Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft and by scores of army officers.

When the Spanish war began American care for enlisted men when in camp and in the field and on battleships and in yards was poor indeed when compared with the homes, the social and other work done by English people for their enlisted men. One outcome of that war, backed by the association, has been provision for American enlisted men comparable with that afforded by England and Germany.

OUR DAY.

Today is your day and mine; the only day we have; the day in which we play our part. What our part may signify in the great whole we may not understand, but we are here to play it, and now is our time. This we know.

It is a part of action, not of whining. It is a part of love, not cynicism. It is for us to express love in terms of human helpfulness. This we know, for we have learned from sad experience that any other source of life leads toward decay and waste.—David Starr Jordan.
